III. Result of the IPARD II meeting

In accordance with the point 1 of the Agenda: Introductory

- Vladimir Joković, Vice-President of the Government of Montenegro and Minister of Agriculture, Forestry and Water Management, in his introductory speech, greeted the distinguished guests, members of the IPARD II monitoring committee and especially representatives of the European Commission, wishing them a pleasant stay in Montenegro. He expressed his satisfaction and pointed to the extraordinary opportunity to jointly assess the extent to which the goals of the IPARD II programme have been achieved so far, as well as the extent to which they can be achieved in the remaining part of the program period. He emphasized the importance of the fulfillment of the foreseen goals for the Government of Montenegro and the Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry and Water Management in the European perspective of Montenegro, which is in the first place with a special focus on Montenegrin producers. From this meeting, Minister Joković sent a strong and clear message to agricultural producers that the Ministry will engage all its capacities to help them first of all become familiar with the procedures for exercising the right to support funds, because information and education are conditions without which one cannot apply successfully for these funds. Minister Joković called on all state and local self-government bodies, which are involved in the process of implementing the IPARD II programme, to jointly take decisive steps in order to improve the process of implementing the IPARD II programme. The minister referred to the importance of agricultural production for Montenegro, and especially the importance of the production of health-safe food in accordance with EU standards, as well as events at the global level where agricultural production directly affects our standard of living.

In accordance with the point 2 of the Agenda: Introduction European Commission (DG AGRI)

- Frank Bollen, Head of the Unit for Neighbourhood, Enlargement and Pre-Accession Assistance / European Commission, in his presentation, expressed satisfaction with the opportunity to discuss all potential issues in live communication, discuss problems and come to common solutions. Also, Mr. Bollen referred to the bilateral meeting with the minister and his associates, which was productive, and on this occasion he congratulated the minister on his appointment and wished his team successful work. He emphasized that their role today is here to help in the better implementation of this IPARD programme.

Mr. Bollen referred to the implementation of the IPARD II programme in the previous program period, where he pointed out the need to further speed up the implementation process for this period, given that Montenegrin producers still have a good portion of the funds available, while last year's scenario in which Montenegro lost 759 thousand euros of non-refundable support is not good. He indicated the need to make all additional efforts in order to use the additional time and in the next seven months to spend another EUR 13 million that should be paid to potential users, and for the next year an additional EUR 8 million. He also emphasized that he fears an even more negative situation, given that it is necessary to accredit measures 7 and 9 in order to spend these funds. Mr. Bollen welcomed the step taken by the Government of Montenegro, which, by adopting the new Regulation on internal organization and systematization, recognized the way to solve the barriers regarding the accreditation of Measure 7 and Measure 9.

Also, Mr. Bollen spoke about the IPARD III programme, for which consultations with the representatives of the EU member states are planned, on June 17 this year, and expressed his belief that it will be adopted by the middle of July. The good news for the new program period 2021-2027 was also emphasized, for which a larger amount of funds is foreseen, more precisely 62% more compared to the previous program period, i.e. an additional EUR 63 million.

As Mr. Bollen emphasized, this is a signal for all of us that we should improve the current situation and open the door for a better implementation of these funds. At the very end, he emphasized that he is aware of the local situation, which is not great, but that he believes that today's meeting is one of the ways to overcome barriers, look at the current situation and take criticism and suggestions into account.

Mr. Van Dijk expressed the hope that by using the available funds we will reach compliance with EU standards and that it is necessary to establish a good institutional management structure. marketing of agricultural and fishery products", a total of 16 requests for payment were paid. The total paid value of these investments is EUR 10,952,071.99 (with VAT), EUR 9,051,299.15 (without VAT), while the amount of paid support is EUR 4,546,467.15. In the end, Mr. Bojović referred to the first public call for Measure 7 " Farm diversification and business development", within which it is possible to contract 24 projects. The requested investment amount for these 24 projects is EUR 3,032,142.85 (with VAT), EUR 2,505,903.18 (without VAT), and the potential support is EUR 1,628,837.07.

Overview of the main conclusions of the discussion:

- Dick Van Dijk, "desk officer" for Montenegro in the pre-accession unit of DG AGRI, suggested that the issue of why measures 7 and 9 have not yet been accredited should be further explained and also asked for clarification as to whether the 24 projects, i.e. potential beneficiaries, are still ready to sign contracts, considering the change in prices and the period of one year that has passed since the moment of application?
- Vladislav Bojović, acting the director general of the Directorate for Payments, the Head of the IPARD Agency, regarding to the accreditation of measures 7 and 9, explained that this government has already taken significant steps in creating personnel solutions and spatial capacity for the introduction into the procedure, i.e. the use of these measures. Regarding the signing of the already mentioned 24 contracts for Measure 7, he explained that they are in constant communication with the majority of users, and he believes that they are ready to continue signing contracts.
- Lidija Rmuš, the secretary of the Committee for Agriculture and Food Industry - Chamber of Commerce - addressed the question to those present and proposed to explore the possibility of changing some items in such contracts, perhaps in those that have not yet been signed, for example introducing the term so-called " a higher force" in view of the situation with the COVID pandemic, now with the war events in Ukraine, and all of this is reflected in the prices overall, which has been suggested several times by the users of IPARD funds themselves.
- Frank Bollen, the Head of the pre-accession unit for neighborhood, enlargement and pre-accession assistance - European Commission, explained that users of the IPARD II program are already facing this problem in communication with other countries. As he said, this is still an active issue and that its solution is still being considered. The potential answer is that some things will probably be able to be changed, but in such a way that there is no discrimination at the expense of other previous users, that is, that the "rules of the game" will not be changed now, but this issue will require careful solution in order not to create additional problems.
- Ratko Bataković president of the Rural network of Montenegro - he emphasized the need to involve more sectors in the creation of measures and that more information is needed for potential users, especially Measure 7, and also suggested that it is necessary for all intersectoral to be involved in the entire communication and campaign. He noticed that potential users are demotivated by a large number of procedures and the collection of voluminous documentation, as well as poor communication between institutions.

- Milko Živković, the president of the Union of Cattle Breeders of the North of Montenegro - proposes to change the format of the contract where the users will be legally valid and in this way they will be able to follow the developments on the market. Also, the question is: "In order to apply, does the farmer "must have a mortgage"? Is there a serious and sincere will of the European Union to help the Montenegrin farmers? He emphasizes that more efforts should be made to change things. If agricultural producers are not met and helped, he believes that in a few years he does not see the point of organizing of the IPARD II monitoring committee.
- Andrijana Rakočević, the director general of the Directorate for Rural Development, the Head of the Managing authority, the chairperson, explained that is in the procedure to sign a Memorandum of Cooperation between the MAFWM and the Ministry of Economic Development and Tourism, which will define a more concise cooperation in the implementation of Measure 7, so, that this need has already been recognized. Also, there are some things that were presented that we are also aware of, but as far as most of the campaign activities and the creation of measures are concerned, she believe that everyone is invited to give their contribution in a timely manner.
- Vladislav Bojović, acting of the director general of the Directorate for Payments, the Head of the IPARD Agency, pointed out that the employees of the Agency are always available for any additional information and pointed out the availability of all employees for the necessary information.
- Dick Van Dijk, „desk officer" for Montenegro in the pre-accession unit of DG AGRI, emphasized that in order to create measures for the new IPARD III program, the EU Commission suggested that during the consultation process regarding the programming of the IPARD III programme, two rounds of consultations should be held in order to all interested parties participate and give their suggestions, which the Managing authority already implemented.

In accordance with point 8 of the Agenda: Information on communication activities related to the Visibility Plan and communication activities related to the IPARD II program for the period from the previous meeting (July 26, 2021) / Approval of the Implementation of the Annual List of Activities 2021 - Visibility and Communication Activities Plan for IPARD II program/Adoption of the Annual list of activities for 2022 - Plan of visibility and communication activities

- Also, Mrs. Jakić referred to the promotional activities that were implemented in 2022 and that are in accordance with the Annual list of activities for 2022 - Plan of visibility and communication activities, where the publication of three public calls for measures 1, 3 and 7 is planned. The fact that promotional activities for the fourth public calls for measures 1 and 3 have been carried out to date, while the second public call for Measure 7 is planned for the third quarter of the current year and that during 2021 promotional activities were carried out in all municipalities before the publication of the first public call invites, Also, the officers of the MAFWM were guests in various TV news shows and promoted the measures. The information campaign was held in almost all Montenegrin municipalities. For the purposes of promoting the fourth public call for Measure 3, 2 roll ups were prepared, and brochures made in 500 copies were placed on the IPARD website <https://ipard.gov.me/> which were distributed during the presentations themselves. For the fourth public call for Measure 1, over 700 brochures were produced, which were distributed during the presentations themselves and subsequently delivered to the municipal services for agriculture for further distribution.
- In addition to the public call, complete accompanying documentation, including brochures, was posted on the IPARD website <https://ipard.gov.me/> , and the same was delivered via e-mail to all municipalities, that is, to the secretariats in charge of agriculture, as well as to all interested parties. Also, in the process of creating the IPARD III programme, a consultative process was held in two cycles. The first cycle was conducted in the form of online consultations, while the second cycle was organized in the form of workshops in the northern, central and southern parts of Montenegro. At the end, she reminded that the official IPARD pages on the social networks Facebook and Instagram under the name "IPARD FOR YOU" were opened in order to increase the visibility of public information about the IPARD programme.

- Frank Bollen, the Head of the pre-accession unit for neighborhood, enlargement and pre-accession assistance/European Commission, pointed out, that at the beginning it was emphasized that we have unused funds, and accordingly asked if there were any ideas for publishing additional public calls.
- Nina Jakić, the advisor for coordination and public relations (PR) of rural development, explained that, as she stated in her presentation, the publication of public calls for now is in accordance with the Plan for the publicity of IPARD public calls for 2022, which planned the publication of three public calls, two of which already published and the third one planned for the third quarter.
- Andrijana Rakočević the general director of the Directorate for Rural Development, the Head of the Managing authority, the chairwoman, explained that is aware of the current situation and the lost funds, but also, emphasized, that additional efforts have been made to use as much of the remaining support funds as possible, with the existing capacities, and that in this sense, the past public call for Measure 1 was published last year, intended exclusively for the procurement of equipment and tractors, with the aim of speeding up contracting and thus the payment of funds. What is very certain, and based on conversations with agricultural producers and their interest in Measure 7, is that with full accreditation of this measure, we will have a significantly higher consumption of funds.

In accordance with item 9 of the Agenda: Presentation of the Annual Implementation Report for 2021 achieved, accordingly 789 new jobs, from of which 460 will be held. He also referred to the economic impact, environmental impact, social impact, etc.

Overview of the main conclusions of the discussion:

- Dick Van Dijk, "desk officer" for Montenegro in the pre-accession unit of DG AGRI referred to the clarification of the term "deadweight" investments, and explained that funds from EU funds, i.e. investments supported by the EU, strive to make this aid be justifiably spent and that if an investment can be realized from own income, it is not justified for support from EU funds.

In accordance with point 11 of the Agenda: Representation of part of the members of the IPARD II monitoring committee

- Marijan Milačić, acting director general of the Directorate for normative affairs, Ministry of Economic Development and Tourism, noted in his presentation that the Ministry of Economic Development and Tourism has recognized the importance of rural tourism and is preparing to sign a Memorandum of cooperation with the relevant Ministry of Agriculture. This Memorandum will identify solutions to the problems and will enable more effective implementation of Measure 7 and that their ministry will do best to implement this measure in the best possible way.
- Čazim Aljković, the president of the Association of Olive Growers Bar, stated and in his presentation highlighted the problem of fulfilment planning-technical conditions, where as an association, they found partial solutions at the local self-government level, but which are not sufficient to be applied for Measure 3 and Measure 7. In addition, as one of the problem is also the insufficient number of experienced people-consultants who make business plans and ask for help in that part.
- Vladislav Bojović, acting the director general of the Directorate for Payments, the Head of the IPARD Agency, pointed out that the employees of the Agency cannot make business plans because it is a conflict of interest and that they will be more involved in solving urban-technical conditions with local governments.
- Spasoje Vujošević, coordinator of the Service for loans and guarantees in the Investment and Development Fund, pointed out that the IDF is not an institution that is financed from the budget, and it is financed by itself. He emphasized that five credit lines are available to agricultural producers. He also pointed out problems in agriculture such as fragmented farms, insufficient promotion of quality products, poor communication between producers and customers, poor placement on the market, poor infrastructure, etc. He pointed out that cooperation is defined every year by signing a protocol on cooperation between MAFWM and IDF, but that they also recognize problems on the ground and refer agricultural producers to addresses where they can potentially find a solution. He also pointed to the problem of
